Remarks:

1. I recommend we not get into this and that you reply as you have indicated.

2. Related to this is the general observation I made to the DCI after my recent trip that most countries are searching for a formula for combining U.S. financial and material aid with non-U.S. missions. The problem of dealing with the American dependents and their "little Americas" -- underdeveloped areas -- is a matter of concern to all governments and every U.S. Ambassador I talked with.
